My API experience contributes to my ability to develop and integrate APIs seamlessly into applications, enhancing functionality and data exchange capabilities.

PROJECTS

XTRING NETWORK

Project Description: Transferring assets from one blockchain to another, compatible with Ethereum Virtual Machine (EVM) standards, ensures seamless interoperability. Smart contracts or bridge protocols enable secure cross-chain transfers, allowing assets to maintain their native EVM compatibility while being used on different blockchain ecosystems, expanding their utility and accessibility.

- Web3 integration on different chain
- Rainbow kit integration

Calculus swap

Project Description: This project is a decentralized swap platform built on a blockchain network. Users can securely exchange digital assets without relying on intermediaries, ensuring transparency and control over their swaps. The platform offers a trustless and efficient solution for peer-to-peer asset trading within the blockchain ecosystem.
